

IAC 2803- GLOBAL RELIGIONS AND COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT (T 1:05 P.M.-3:55 P.M.)

Dr. Deanna Womack

deanna.womack@gatech.edu

LAMP Director and Assistant Professor at Emory University's Candler School of Theology

This course will prepare students for leadership in a multifaith society through the study of world religions and active engagement with the diverse religious communities of Atlanta. It emphasizes service learning through site visits and field research in collaboration with faith-based community partners. Through this course, students will come to understand the core beliefs and practices of the world's major religions, with special emphasis given to Judaism, Islam, and Hinduism and the unique manifestations of these traditions in America and Atlanta. Students will...

- Take field trips to religious sites in Atlanta
- Hear guest lectures by community leaders
- Design a community engaged learning website documenting the sacred spaces of Atlanta

BAPS Hindu Temple

al-Farooq Mosque

The Temple

